Check out our Snow White-inspired bridal shoot for a fairytale wedding

Georgina Webb of Ruby Weddings and Shannon Robinson of SLR Photography drew inspiration from the famous fairytale to create a chic, festive shoot.

"I kept the styling simple with just red, white, green and silver accents, which worked really well against the snow and Christmas tree backdrop," says Georgina. The table was dressed with tempting cocktails, apple escort cards and ornate jars of red and white sweets. "Our Snow White model wore a pair of red killer heels and showed them off in an on-trend short dress. I couldn't decide between a stunning floral crown or a bright glitter bow – the crown would work well during the day while the glitter bow perfectly glamorised the look for an evening do," says Georgina.

To tie the make-up into the theme it was decided that the look should be classic and sophisticated with subtle eyes and a bold lip. The cake was a masterpiece with the bottom tier adorned with frills and roses and the second layer finished with a magical silhouette scene. The flower arrangements boasted bright colours and textures including apples and feathers.

"We like to encourage brides to think outside the box when creating their big-day theme. We strive to get them to try something different that gets them excited and reflects their passions."
